NOTES:

1) Anita was a master dance instructor. She held classes regularly to teach tap, ballet and other steps to primarily young children, but occasionally to older people. My (ELE07) favorite memory of Anita was a dance recital held around July 1964 when my sister (ELE08) was dancing with other 5 yr. olds as bumble bees all running around the stage looking for their mommy and daddy's. A bunch of bees waving and crying and some trying to do ballet. The other memory the same event was a very young 3 yr. old (LEV05) walking out on stage in a red dress singing "Red Roses for a Blue Lady". She did it perfectly and had everyone crying. The auditorium was over 90 degrees inside and there was no air conditioning.
